REF: [ ] 17 January 1969

1. [ ] who as Chief of Internal Operations for [ ] is in a position to know, commented as follows on the subject of Adolf SLAVIK's conviction: Although [ ] is convinced SLAVIK was an RIS agent, he was too clever and the evidence presented in court was insufficient to pin the RIS tag on him. In addition, [ ] revealed the Turks who were charged with SLAVIK had influential political friends (not named) who came to their defense and rescue. [ ] remarked it was unfortunate the press treated him as an Austrian spy; however, he indicated [ ] had no control.

2. Interestingly enough, [ ] said if the Austrian Service has any hard evidence, which can be admitted in court, proving SLAVIK to have been an RIS agent, the case can be reopened.
